Section 1: Account Opening and Management

Q: How do I open a savings account?

The process for opening a new savings account involves several mandatory steps to comply with banking regulations and ensure account security:

1. Step 1: Visit the nearest bank branch during business hours.
2. Step 2: Submit the following required documentation:
 - a. Aadhaar card (primary identity and address proof)
 - b. PAN card (mandatory for tax and large transactions)
 - c. Two recent passport-size photographs
 - d. Initial deposit amount (minimum Rs. 1,000 for regular accounts)
3. Step 3: Complete the Account Opening Form (AOF) with accurate personal details and nominee information.
4. Step 4: Undergo the KYC (Know Your Customer) verification process with a bank officer.

What happens next: Once the application is submitted, the bank performs a background verification. The account is typically activated within 24 hours. A welcome kit containing your account number, passbook, and debit card will be dispatched to your registered address within 7 working days.

Q: What is the minimum balance for savings account?

The bank provides different tiers of savings accounts to cater to diverse financial needs.

Maintaining the Minimum Average Balance (MAB) is crucial to avoid non-maintenance charges:

- Regular Savings Account: Requires a minimum balance of Rs. 1,000. Ideal for general banking users.
- Basic Savings Bank Deposit Account (BSBDA): Zero minimum balance requirement. Designed for financial inclusion.
- Premium Savings Account: Requires a minimum balance of Rs. 10,000. Offers additional benefits like higher withdrawal limits and lifestyle rewards.

Why this is important: Failure to maintain the required MAB results in penalty charges deducted directly from the account balance at the end of each quarter.

Premium savings account requires Rs. 10000 minimum balance.
